The consumer is entitled to unilaterally terminate the purchase contract within 14 days from the date of concluding the contract without giving any reason. By terminating the contract unilaterally, the consumer is relieved from all contractual obligations, except covering the cost of returning the goods.

In case of withdrawing from the contract, the consumer is entitled to a refund or product replacement. The consumer will receive the refund after Mione receives the goods, that is after the good are returned to where they were originally shipped from. Mione has the right to deny a refund if it determines that the returned goods are defective, that is if it determines that the product was used, opened, damaged. The goods must be returned in new and unused condition. The consumer bears the return and refund costs, except in cases when the consumer receives a defective or wrong item. The information provided in this form will be used only for sales and purchases records and Mione will not use it in any other way. If the consumer decides to have the product replaced for a different product, he or she can exercise this right in line with conditions of purchase that can be found on Mione's website.
